

Srsly Big Deal:

From self-published mini-comic zines to traditional comic books, manga and lengthy graphic novels, comics are a seriously big deal in our community, home to big-time publishers, small presses and many independent artists.

Learn about the cultural and economic significance of comics with: PSU Special Collections Librarian and Archivist Cris Paschild, Dylan Williams from Spark-Plug Comics, Dark Horse Comics Executive Editor Diana Schutz and independent comics creator Julia Gfrörer.

Experience the unique live performance of mini-comics with Julia Gfrörer and guest.
