Why Aren't There More Black People in Oregon? A Hidden History

Have you ever wondered why the Black population in Oregon is so small? Oregon has a history not only of Black exclusion and discrimination, but also of a vibrant Black culture that helped sustain many communities throughout the state — a history that is not taught in schools. Portland State University adjunct professor Walidah Imarisha will lead participants through an interactive timeline of Black history in Oregon and will also discuss how history, politics, and culture have shaped — and will continue to shape — the landscape for Black Oregonians. Sponsored by Oregon Humanities.

Sun., January 22, 2-3 p.m.

COMPUTER CLASSES AND LABS

Job Seekers Lab

Unemployed? Update your resume, file for unemployment, or apply for your dream job in this special computer lab just for job seekers. Limited technical support provided. Space is limited so come early!

Fridays, noon-3 p.m.

Computer Lab

Lab assistants are available to help beginners practice their computer skills.

Saturdays, 10 a.m.-noon

Meet the Computer*

Never tried a computer before? In this two-session course, you will get to meet the computer, the keyboard and the mouse, and learn what they are and how to use them. No experience is necessary for you to take this relaxed, fun class. Note: If you have never used a computer before, this is an excellent class to take before Introduction to Computers. Offered by OASIS Connections, a national organization devoted to lifelong learning for adults over 50.

Tuesdays, January 3 and 10, 12:30-2:30 p.m.

Spreadsheets*

This class introduces you to the basic functionality of Microsoft Excel 2007 and other free spreadsheet products. To participate, you must have word processing skills.

Sat., January 14, 2-4 p.m.

Email 101*

Want or need to set up an email account? We'll get you started with the free web-based email service Gmail. To participate, you must be comfortable using a keyboard and a mouse. You will also need to bring a text-enabled mobile phone as Google sometimes requires verification to activate a new Gmail account.

Tue., January 17, 12:30-2:30 p.m.

Windows & Web for Beginners*

This class combines Computer Basics with Searching the Web. Learn basic computer terms and functions, as well as introductory Internet skills.

Tue., January 31, 5:30-7:30 p.m.

Check the Free Classes @yourlibrary schedule for a complete list of computer classes.

* Registration required; register online, in the library or by calling 503.988.5234.
